

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

SIR:

I beg leave herewith to forward for publication, as a first part of a catalogue of educational literature, the index to Barnard's American Journal of Education. This work of Dr. Henry Barnard, the first United States Commissioner of Education, is in fact a library of education in itself. It contains thirty-one volumes of some eight hundred pages each. In its publication Dr. Barnard used the best years of his life and all of his private fortune. The complete index to these volumes goes a long way toward furnishing a key to all educational literature. Inasmuch as this work is eagerly sought by all general libraries, and by all professional libraries devoted to the subject of education, both in this country and in Europe, it is readily seen how useful a general index to it will be. It will furnish an analytical index to the most important part of the educational collection in every library in the land.

It may be proper to mention here that a number of the friends of education, seeing the importance of continuing the publication of the entire set of Dr. Barnard's journal, have formed a company and purchased the electrotype plates of the work, and are now engaged in reprinting the volumes which are out of print. A "Henry Barnard Society" has been formed, extending to all parts of the Union, and an impulse from this source is extending widely to create a taste for the study of the professional literature of education.

In part second of the proposed catalogue of educational literature will be found a classified list of all the educational works in the library of the Bureau of Education, together with an author index to the same. In some respects the library of this Bureau is the best and fullest educational collection to be found in the world. Pursuant to the purposes of Congress in founding the Bureau of Education, the policy has been inaugurated of making this library as useful as possible to educational specialists throughout the land. Duplicate copies of books useful to the student are often loaned. In recent years there have been formed in many of the States teachers' reading circles, with marked benefit to the culture and professional training of the corps of teachers.

The third part of this catalogue will contain an analytical index to educational reports, educational magazines, and to educational articles in miscellaneous periodicals, volumes of proceedings of educational associations, and a variety of other important books, thus furnishing the answer to such questions as: Where can I find articles on this special educational subject? What phases of the subject have been discussed?

It is believed that this work will answer a very widely felt demand, and that it will subserve the chief purpose for which the Bureau of Education has been founded, namely, the collection and distribution of educational information, to the end that the directors of education in the cities, towns, villages, and districts of the various States may be able to manage their great trust more wisely. It is rightly held that the collection and dissemination of information by the central authority strengthens and never weakens local self-government.

Respectfully submitted,

W. T. HARRIS,
Commissioner.

HON. JOHN W. NOBLE,
Secretary of the Interior.
